

Two Governorships at Stake

Political Chiefs To Study Election 'Straws In Wind'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Leaders of both political parties will keep close tabs on the scattered straws in the wind stirred up in Tuesday's elections.

Of major interest to Democrats: What, if any, is the extent of the so-called "backlash" of white resentment to Negro civil rights demands and activities in major Northern cities?

Republican leaders will be scanning the slim results to see what, if any, improvement the party has made in Dixie and the big cities.

At stake are the governorships of Kentucky and Mississippi; the mayor's office in such cities as Philadelphia, Boston, San Francisco, Memphis and Salt Lake City; hundreds of other municipal and state offices; and the state legislatures of New Jersey, Virginia, Kentucky and Mississippi.

Much of the attention will be focused on Philadelphia where Democratic Mayor James H. J. Tate seeks election to a full four-year term again st Republican attorney James T. McDermott.

The city has been the scene of violence and unrest this year stemming from efforts of Negroes to win better jobs, housing and schools.

Both candidates picture themselves as liberal on racial issues.

President Kennedy carried Philadelphia by a whopping 331,000 in 1960. Most Republican leaders believe it was his showing in the large Northern cities that cost them the White House that year. They have made determined efforts since to beef up big city Republican organizations.

Perhaps one-quarter of Philadelphia's 2 million residents are Negroes. In recent national and state elections the Democrats' estimated share of the Negro vote has ranged between 74 and 82 per cent.

Some analysts see a Tate victory by 20,000 to 60,000 votes. McDermott has said he'll win by 10,000.

The racial issue also hovers in the background of the Kentucky election. Republican Louie B. Nunn has been attacking an executive order issued by Democratic Gov. Bert Combs banning racial discrimination in business licensed by the state. The order has been held up by litigation.

Edward T. Breathitt Jr., the Democratic nominee, at first embraced the order. Now he says he would turn the matter over to the next legislature.

Other issues in Kentucky include Nunn's claim that industry has passed the state by because of high taxes and Breathitt's promise of 75,000 new jobs, expanded highways and parks, and improved farm income. Nunn also has repeatedly attacked the Kennedy administration. Neither Kennedy nor leading Republicans have campaigned in Kentucky.

Race appears to be the main issue in Mississippi.

In past years, the Democrats closed up their political shop after the party primary, because the winner rarely was challenged.

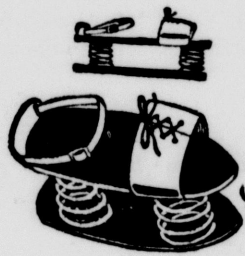

But this year Republican nominee Rubell Phillip has been waging a vigorous campaign and there are GOP officials in Washington who believe he has a good chance.

The campaign message of both Phillips and the Democratic nominee, Lt. Gov. Paul B. Johnson, has been simple: Each claims to be the strongest foe of integration in Mississippi and the Kennedy administration in Washington.

Also running—although state officials say his write-in votes won't be counted—is Aaron Henry, a Negro druggist.

Time To Prepare For Winter Now

After you've put anti-freeze in your car, you're ready for winter in that respect.

But what about your house? Aside from the usual work of getting your house ready for cold weather—putting up storm windows and weather-stripping—how ready are you for the first snowfall or the first freeze?

It's time to take care of the little things, which, if forgotten can be annoying later on.

Of course, how many little things there are to take care of depends a great deal on your locale. However, the following should take care of your needs regardless of where you live.

PUT YOUR SNOW shovel where you can find it. Keep it in the house or have an extra one there so that you can clear your way out.

Don't wait for ice to form before putting in a supply of rock salt. Keep a supply in both house and garage.

If you use coal or oil to heat, is the bin or tank freshly filled? Or are you waiting to use up what was left from last spring?

If you have a working fireplace, have some wood cut to proper length stored in a dry place.

WHAT HAPPENS IF the power fails?

Know where your flashlights are. Place them in strategic places. Make certain that batteries in them are fresh. Have candles on hand and matches with which to light them. A small glass pitcher or a wide mouth glass jar will hold the candle, shield it from an occasional draft. Place it so as to keep the flame from igniting anything nearby.

Kerosene or gasoline lanterns and stoves will help you hold out for a longer time, but be certain you know how to use them. Store the fuel in tightly stoppered metal containers.

IF YOU HAVEN'T DONE so already, turn off the water supply to outside faucets. Open the faucets and drain the pipes.

Sheets of plastic or heavy building paper will keep out the wind if a window breaks. Keep some on hand along with hammer and tacks or a loaded stapling gun.

A strip of rubber, made especially for the purpose, installed under an overhead garage door will keep weather out.

ONCE THE WEATHER has damaged trees and shrubs, there's not much you can do. Giv wires installed now will support a young tree. Use rubber hose to protect the tree from the wire.

Sections of snow fence will protect shrubs, also keep areas free of drifting snow if properly placed.

Stav clear of larger trees that are badly broken, that have limbs hanging precariously. And avoid by all means broken wires. Patience is important. Let the professional remove the hazard.

Here's the Answer

QUESTION: I would like to buy a table saw of the kind that uses circular blades. The range of prices seems to be very wide. Is there some way I can tell whether I am getting my money's worth?

ANSWER: You buy a table saw the same way you buy almost anything else: by comparing what you are getting in one product with what you are getting in another—and then deciding whether the price difference makes the first or second product a better purchase. You have to look over the machine personally, see if you can detect which is built better and which has more useful features.

But probably the most important of all is to find out exactly what you are getting for your money. The prices of some table saws include blade guards and other equipment necessary to the proper functioning of the tool. Other prices, for machines which appear to be better buys, actually are for "stripped-down" models. The reputation of the manufacturer and the reliability of the dealer are, of course, also important.

Remember that the so-called size of the machine is indicated by the size of the maximum saw blade that can be used. Thus, a 7-inch saw will take a 7-inch blade, an 8-inch blade, and so on.

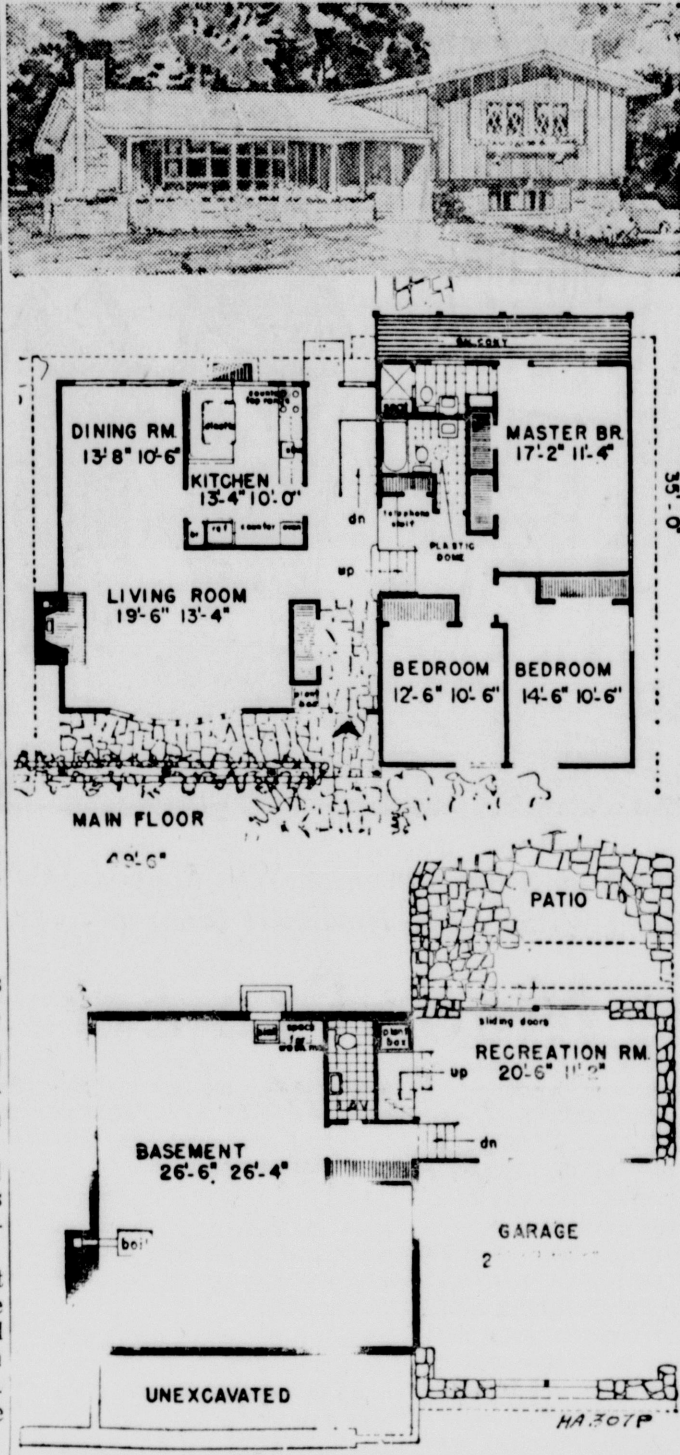

In comparing different brands and prices, be sure to note the horsepower of the motor used to power the machine. An under-powered saw can sometimes prove more costly in the long run even though the initial outlay for a small motor will be less than that for a larger one. All manufacturers issue literature in which the recommended motor horsepower is listed for each size machine.

QUESTION: I have a project coming up which involves the use of concrete blocks. Can you tell me something about them? I have never used them before.

ANSWER: We could have been more specific if you had told us what the project is. We'll assume you are talking about the common type of concrete blocks—the lightweight or standard wall blocks with two or three cores and with 8, 10 or 12-inch nominal widths. Be sure to use them while they are dry, since wet blocks will shrink later and possibly ruin the joints.

In making the mortar for the joints be sure not to use so much water that the mixture runs easily. This is true whether you make the entire mixture yourself or buy one of the ready-mixes to which only water must be added. For a home-made mix, use 2½ parts of sand to one of portland cement. As you proceed with your job, check each block with a level. Don't rely on your eyesight. Another part of the job which should be done as you go along is to wipe off any mortar which falls on the face of the block.

Inviting air of the arched portico, stone veneer and shuttered, diamond light windows is carried inside this seven-room split-level home. There are two and a half baths, two-car garage, large basement and an abundance of closets in a shell of 1,510 square feet. The kitchen, with space for a built-in dinette, opens both to the dining room and a through hallway. This hall permits front and rear entrance as well as access to all rooms from one centralized location. Two comforts of the master bedroom are a large balcony and a stall shower with a seat. Modern Electric Furnace Almost Thinks for Itself

If you are building a new home or remodeling an old one this fall, it might pay you to consider a modern electric furnace when it comes time to decide on your heating system.

In addition to the advantages of clean, flameless heat and maintenance-free operation, the electric furnace provides for economical addition of central air conditioning and electronic air cleaning. It is noted by American Furnace Company, a leading manufacturer.

An electric furnace almost thinks for itself. When heat is called for by the thermostat, a series of elements is energized to provide the precise amount needed, and no more.

Table Saw Still Key Tool In Handyman's Workshop

The wide variety of power tools on the market has in no way interfered with the designation of the table saw as the workhorse of the home shop. It is the prime example of power equipment when it comes to a demonstration of the advantages of electric tools in general—advantages such as saving time and labor and getting quality work.

Since most home handyman projects involve the cutting of wood, the table saw, also known as the bench or circular saw, is the key tool in the operation. No matter what is to be done to the wood eventually, it must first be cut to size. And with the use of the proper accessories, the table saw can perform many other functions as well.

THERE ARE TWO TYPES of table saws. The most popular is known as the tilting arbor. When the arbor on which the blade is attached, is tilted, diagonal cuts can be made on the stock. The other type is called the tilting table. In this case, the arbor and blade remain stationary, but the table is tilted when diagonal cuts are to be made. A tilting table saw requires a little more care and acquired skill to operate, but usually costs less than the tilting arbor saw.

TABLE SAWS GET their designation from the diameter of the size blades which can be used on the particular models. Thus, a saw which can handle an 8-inch blade is called an 8-inch saw, and so on. This is the usual size for a home workshop, although many thousands of 6 and 10-inch saws are sold each year. An 8-inch saw can make a maximum cut of 2 and one-half inches in depth at one time. By turning the wood over for a second cut, you can slice through a piece of wood 5 inches in depth.

Most of the time when you buy a table saw, you buy a motor at the same time. But if you already have a motor, it can be used with a saw, provided that it falls within the manufacturer's recommended range for that model. An 8-inch saw, for instance, might have a recommendation for a one-half horsepower motor.

THE TABLE SAW IS a powerful tool and must be handled carefully. Manufacturers build many safety features into their machines these days, but it won't do you any good if you don't take advantage of them. The blade guard mechanism is the best example of this. At first, when unfamiliar with the machine, most people use the guard at all times. Later, as they get used to the saw, there is a dangerous inclination not to use the guard.

AMONG THE SAFETY rules for the use of a table saw are these: make no adjustment when the blade is turning; pull out the electric plug when changing blades; and always keep your eye on the blade as the wood is being fed into it.

If someone comes into the workshop to engage in conversation, shut off the motor immediately to avoid the tendency to look up from the work.

Experts Tell How To Retain Beauty Of Wood Paneling

The natural beauty of wood paneling can be lost in two principal ways.

Excessive application of varnish, particularly over a dirty surface, and

The natural tendency of varnish, even of high quality, to darken with age.

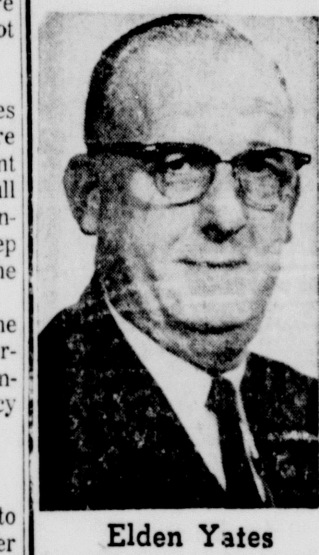

The customer services division of a large paint company recommends when repainting that all dirt be removed with a mild detergent solution, the detergent be rinsed off with clear water, and the surface be allowed to dry thoroughly before the new coat is applied.

If these steps are not taken, the fresh coat merely covers dirt lying on the surface and dulls the paneling.

A good cleaning job even may reveal that no new varnish is needed at the time and that the natural tone and grain of the wood will come alive under a coat of furniture polish of any type.

If the old varnish has darkened or been burned out by the rays of the sun, however, it should be completely removed with a quality varnish remover before the new coat is applied.

The world's greatest average annual precipitation is 472 inches on Mt. Waialeale, Kauai, Hawaii.

Kindly Hold the Applause

It will take time to learn the score in South Viet Nam, but it looks as if Central Intelligence Agency had won the game.

The Ngo Dinh Diem regime is toppled, which is what the United States has been wishing for. Undoubtedly, the CIA was involved.

The question now is — apropos of U.S. taxpayers' money — what will follow the collapse of the Diem government, if that's what has happened. It is one thing to pull out the rug from under a government that doesn't deserve to stay in power. It is another thing to set up a new government that does deserve to stay in power.

This has been a quandary for the United States throughout its participation in international power politics. It has found out time and time again that helping to topple governments is easier than setting up replacements — in the Dominican Republic, Cuba, Viet Nam itself, Cambodia, Republic of Congo, even good neighbor Canada.

Until everything has worked itself out and a new Vietnamese government acceptable to the Kennedy administration and all right-thinking parties concerned has come into being and proved it can do the job, the audience will kindly hold its applause.

Vote!

Although Salem voters who exercise their franchise on election day play a vital role in deciding special issues and candidates for office, the conspicuous non-voters play an equal role in the outcome of important contests.

Mechanized Maimer

Not since unguarded pulley wheels and belts were outlawed from the American scene has anything as dangerous as the corn picker come along.

This indispensable time-saver and work-a-voider has turned into the No. 1 mechanized maimer of the American farm. Its place is assured because of its undisputed usefulness. But its bad reputation is assured, too, because of its undisputed risk.

One of the most horrible incidents of the 1963 series of corn-picking chills concerns the ordeal of Charles E. Orewiler of Mt. Vernon, O., whose hand was held and maimed for seven hours in a corn picker, until the machine ran out of gas. When rescued, the palm of his hand and the bones on the back of his hand had literally been worn down, until amputation was necessary.

Every corn-picker accident occurs in the same way. The operator or someone else makes the potentially fatal mistake of adjusting the feed-in mechanism while the machine is running.

A corn picker cannot discriminate between a cornstalk and a human body. It automatically and impartially ingests both. Nothing that goes in can avoid being mangled.

The best light on what makes unpopular people unpopular can be found through a little reflection.

Twil Program

As promised here the other day, the Twil program for picketing is being put into effect as fast as necessary arrangements can be made.

But there has been a major alteration. The original program called for little signs on little sticks. This has been discarded.

The revised programs calls for moral picketing — no little signs, no little sticks, no scuffles with policemen, no marching up and down in all kinds of weather.

Leave that to run-of-mine pickets, who run to long hair, whiskers and wrap-around haberdashery. Leave it also to the professionals, who do the job for pay, like the execution squad of Cosa Nostra.

A word in passing about these professionals, who represent the bottom of the sociological barrel. These human beings blandly draw pay for pretending to exercise the constitutional right of petition, analogous to pretending to be a member of a holy order.

EARL WARREN, chief justice of the United States, commented on the professionals the other night. A gaggle of pickets had tried to jab out his eyes in New York after he had been made an honorary member of the New York Bar Association. They were jeering and jostling when he was on his way to receive the honor, too.

"I had no trouble finding this building," said the chief justice. "In my travels around this country I often find such built-in reception committees. But, seriously, it is a great thing they can do this, whether they really believe in it, or are being paid to do it."

All right. It's a great thing, if the chief justice says so. But to get back to the revised picketing program, this is the plan:

TO CONDUCT a relentless campaign of moral picketing against all people who carry pointed sticks and little cardboard signs.

To vow relentless opposition of the mind to all fellow Americans who subvert their constitutional rights by abusing them or exercising them for causes too trivial to justify their use.

To regard as unfair to the American way of life all citizens who do things under its aegis that cheapen it and turn it into an empty phrase.

To carry on no mental or sociological commerce in any way whatsoever with persons who have signified by their acts they are eager to destroy everything worth saving and save everything worth destroying.

And, finally, to quit pretending tolerance for the intolerance that manifests itself in bone-chilling shrieks for causes that demonstrably would destroy the republic.

It won't be as good as getting out there on that old pocket line and looking fierce for the photographers, but moral picketing offers more latitude. And besides, a fellow can picket while seated and earning a living.

It proves he's not a professional picket.

Silly Moon Project

money was spent for it.

THE VICISSITUDES of age, the imperfections of education, the lagging in the arts, the sprawl of cities, unemployment, the strained relations of two different races, all these could be cured if enough millions could be assigned to eradicating them.

He could count on more than $90 billions in revenue and no limit at all in the government's through monetizing the national debt. Ideally, the sky was not to be the limit of his achievements.

After two years, when the common sense of Congress began to prevail and the Kennedy programs for utopia began to bog down, the President began to trim his sails.

The proposal to join with the Soviet to share the trip to the moon was just as silly as the original proposal to go it alone.

He reasoned that half a moon is better than one. But the Soviet government would have no part in such a joint effort. Such a proposal would in practice mean sharing all of the secrets which the respective intelligence agencies of the two governments have not already discovered.

I have always felt that among all the New Frontiersmen the two foremost masters of comedy have been Vice President Lyndon Johnson and Sen. Clinton P. Anderson.

Laid end to end, the expressions of these two statesmen would provide material for several new versions of Alice in Wonderland.

Earlier this year the Texas statesman warned us that unless we proceeded full scale with the moon project, our children would disport themselves under a "Soviet moon."

After Khrushchev's statement, Anderson said, "I don't think we should let Mr. Khrushchev determine our space policies."

Doesn't Anderson realize that ever since the Sputnik that is exactly what has been happening? After the Soviet government has done something in space, we have done the same thing, but better.

NO VALID REASON for this vast moon project was ever propounded except to establish our prestige. This reminds me of a passage in one of P. G. Wodehouse's delightful novels:

"What is it that makes a man do perilous deeds? Why does a man go over Niagara Falls in a barrel? Not for his health. Half an hour with a skipping rope would be equally beneficial to his liver.

"No; in nine cases out of ten he does it to prove to his friends and relatives that he is not the mild, steady-going person they have always thought him."

"Observe the music-hall acrobat as he prepares to swing from the roof by his eyelids. His gaze sweeps the house, 'It isn't true, he seems to say, 'I'm not a jelly fish.'"

If the United States is regarded abroad as a nation of money-grubbers, the way to dissipate this libel is to throw money away.

If we are regarded over the world as a nation with plain common sense, the way to erase that idea is to do senseless things.

We have done pretty well over the last few years toward establishing a new and foolish image of ourselves. But the moon project would have clinched the case beyond dispute for all time.

Nor am I impressed by those who argue that if the $10 billion or $40 billion were saved from the moon project and spent for other things, we would be wiser. Why spend the money at all? It's money that we don't have.

GOP Hopefuls In 13 States

By PETER EDSON

Nine months before the Republican national convention opens in San Francisco, the battle of the presidential candidates is on to capture the 13 largest states.

Taken together, these states have 662 of the 1,306 convention votes—seven more than the 655 needed to win the nomination. Five of the favorite son candidates who are expected to have support from their delegations, on the first ballot at least, come from these big states.

They are Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania (64 convention votes), Gov. James A. Rhodes of Ohio (58), Gov. George Romney of Michigan (48), Sen. Clifford Case of New Jersey (40), and Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin (30).

When these states start to switch, that's the time to watch which way the bandwagon will go.

Gov. Nelson Rockefeller of New York (92 votes) has the advantage in his own state.

No organization for Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona has yet been announced for the most populous state. But Elmer Weil of Buffalo, a former Erie county attorney, recently put out a statement that he would head a Goldwater movement in western New York, which has been considered not too friendly to Rockefeller.

CALIFORNIA (86 VOTES) presents a special problem. It has the last primary, June 2, just three weeks before the convention opens in San Francisco. And in the convention, California is the first big state to vote.

Republican efforts to present either Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel or Rep. Glenard P. Lipscomb as California favorite son candidates now seem to have been abandoned.

Both Rockefeller and Goldwater are campaigning extensively in California, though neither seems to want a knock-down drag-out fight there because of the expense.

Goldwater seems to have stolen a march in the state by naming former Sen. William F. Knowland as chairman of his advisory committee of 70 or 80 local California leaders.

PENNSYLVANIA will be for Scranton as long as he wants to hold. He has said he would accept a genuine draft, though he does not want to be considered an active candidate.

If by any chance Rockefeller should lose out in key primary states like New Hampshire, West Virginia, Wisconsin or Oregon—or if he should withdraw for any reason, which isn't expected—much of his support might go to Scranton.

Goldwater's organizing efforts in Pennsylvania have so far been limited, and his Hershey, Pa., speech fell flat.

Illinois and Ohio (58 votes each) present contrasting situations. Illinois has no favorite son as yet, and the fact that Rockefeller is his only opposition helps Goldwater in that state.

By LAURENCE BARRETT
Herald Tribune News Service
WASHINGTON — The current grain crisis in eastern Europe, most frequently attributed to the vagaries of nature, may be even more the result of human failings.

Translations of official Hungarian publications now available here point a picture of poor planning, difficulties in mechanization and manpower deficiencies.

U.S. experts regard these difficulties as at least as important as the drought, the late spring and the severe winter that have plagued Communist agriculture in 1963.

IT IS UNDERSTOOD that the man-made troubles are characteristic of most of the European Communist countries, including the Soviet Union. They account in large measure for the heavy buying of foreign wheat and give credence to reports that European Communists will be in the market for other commodities as well.

Hungary's difficulties are neither unique nor worse than those of other Iron Curtain countries. The big difference is that the Hungarians have displayed great candor recently in publicizing these adverse conditions in literature available to westerners.

One of the worst troubles is that Hungary's agricultural population is growing older, and more female every year. More than 90 per cent of all harvesting operations in Hungary now are carried out by women over 60 years of age. There are men, of course, on the collective farms, but many of them have taken jobs in nearby towns and use their spare time to work on private garden plots.

THERE IS A comparable situation in the Soviet Union, although figures are not readily available.

A recent publication also points up the failure even to keep up with planting goals. For instance, Budapest announced a year ago that the 1963 wheat planting would be 2,849,000 acres. This, together with other expansion plans, were to make Hungary self-sufficient in grain this year. Actually, only 2,412,000 acres were planted — an 11 per cent drop from the previous year. This is the smallest wheat planting in Hungary since 1943.

Rye planting also was 10 per cent below last year's — the worst rye sowing since 1920. Barley planting declined 11 per cent to the lowest point since 1957.

There was no official explanation of why the original planting quotas were not fulfilled.

MECHANIZATION of harvesting operations also failed to meet expectations, although the government allocated more than 5,000 extra tractors to agriculture this year. Then somebody forgot to line up the necessary numbers of trained drivers and spare parts. The result was that 25 per cent of the planned mechanization failed to take place.

Mechanical deficiencies have plagued Hungarian agriculture in Michigan is that former GOP National Committee Chairman Arthur Summerfield may attempt a political comeback as a Goldwater supporter. Romney and Summerfield are not the closest of political pals.

Texas (56 votes), Florida (34) Indiana (32) and Virginia (30) are now considered Goldwater country. New Jersey (40), Massachusetts (34), and other smaller eastern states have leaned to Rockefeller, but might be shifting.

Wisconsin (30) expects agreement from both Rockefeller and Goldwater not to go into the state, to give Rep. John Byrnes a good run as favorite son.

generally. For instance, there are only 10 corn harvesting machines in the entire country; 90 per cent of the work still is done by hand. There have also been published complaints about poor workmanship in the manufacture of other farm machinery.

The result, according to experts here, is a don't-care attitude that is difficult to break.

Ann Landers Answers

Dear Ann Landers: My 17-year-old daughter is causing me a great deal of grief. It's not HER I'm concerned about, it's the unfortunate young fellows who become victims of her beauty and charm.

Loretta takes fiendish delight in making a boy fall in love with her. Then she tosses him aside, first making certain that she has reduced him to nothing.

I've seen boys leave our house in tears. Loretta triumphantly has shown me letters from heart-broken young men who can't understand why she has dumped them without warning.

She has a fantastic "love museum" of relics from former sweethearts. It baffles me that she is able to destroy these poor fellows one after the other. I should think the word would get around.

What can I do to straighten her out? No good can come of it.—MOTHER OF A HEART-LESS GIRL.

Dear Mother: Your daughter's destructive personality is a symptom of a serious emotional problem.

The Jebel is a female counterpart of the Don Juan. Such girls collect hearts the way little boys collect bottle tops.

Unless your daughter gets professional help she may never be capable of a mature relationship with a male.

Uninvited Parents

Dear Ann: I was just called out of the bathtub with the news that "Grandma and Grandpa are here." This is the fourth time they have dropped in this week.

My parents are both retired and they are the dearest people you can imagine but it's getting to the point where I can't take it much longer. Sometimes they bring guests with them.

It makes no difference if we are entertaining, sleeping or eating. They come whenever they feel like it. I hate to think of being rude to my own parents but my husband is becoming so irritated that he finds it hard to be civil to them.

Last week he was conducting a business meeting in the library and my father barbed right in and sat down.

Please, Ann, tell me what to do about this.—PARENT PROBLEM.

Dear Problem: I'll say it one more time: No one (not even parents) should assume the welcome mat is always out and that a visit any old time is okay.

You should ask your folks to please telephone before they come. If it isn't convenient for you to entertain them, tell them so.

Vacation From Home

Dear Ann: I'm so mad I could spit tacks. I've been married for 14 years to a guy who thinks he is still playing tackle for SMU.

We have six children. The oldest is 12, the youngest is 4. I've never had a cleaning woman, a laundress or help of any kind. After each one of the babies came I went right from the hospital to the laundry room.

I've never had anything resembling a vacation. The kids were always too small to take along or I was pregnant. So my husband took his annual two weeks vacation to visit his folks, without me.

Now I have won a contest prize which is a trip to Dallas for one whole week—expenses paid, even the price of a housekeeper. My husband says no married woman should have entered the contest and if I go it means I'm looking for excitement.

I told him I was going to write to you and accept your advice. Do I go or not?—DELLA.

Dear Della: Go, Girl. Go. If anyone is entitled to a break, you are. You'll love the "Big D." It's a great city.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Today's highlight in history: On this day in 1791, the U.S. Army suffered its worst defeat at the hands of the Indians. Miami chief Little Turtle led his braves in a pre-dawn attack near Ft. Washington, Ohio, killing nearly half of Gen. Arthur St. Clair's force of 1,400 inexperienced troops.

On this date In 1752, George Washington was initiated into the Masonic Order at Fredericksburg, Va.

In 1862, Richard Gatling received a patent for his rapid-fire gun.

In 1909, Serge Rachmaninoff made his U.S. debut with a piano recital at Smith College in Northampton, Mass.

In 1939, President Franklin Roosevelt signed the law repealing the U.S. arms embargo.

In 1952, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower was elected president of the United States by the largest popular vote in the nation's history.

Ten years ago . . . President Eisenhower said the Soviet Union seemed determined to prevent a four-power conference on Germany and Austria.

Five years ago . . . Republican Nelson A. Rockefeller was elected governor of New York over the Democratic incumbent W. Averell Harriman.

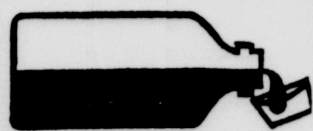

One year ago . . . Prime Minister Nehru called on the Indian nation to step up industrial and agricultural production as part of the war effort against the Communist Chinese attackers.

HANDLE CULVERT BY HAND?...ANYWHERE?

Until a year ago, what you see here couldn't happen. Culvert weighed so much that lifting equipment was needed to load it, unload it, and place it in a trench.

But today, men alone can easily handle large pipes like the 24-inch by 20-foot section shown above — new aluminum culvert developed by KAISER ALUMINUM. It weighs only 159 pounds, compared to 500 pounds for the same size steel culvert.

This new product was developed by following the two basic steps our corporation takes to serve its customers: First, find a need—in this case the need for reduced culvert weight to simplify handling (frequently an important cost factor in road construction) and improved corrosion resistance.

Second, fill it—we engineered new, light aluminum culvert; subjected it to structural and corrosion testing to prove that it can carry loads and outlast other culvert materials; pioneered its acceptance for state highways; secured a specification from the American Association of State Highway Officials; and made light aluminum culvert pipe available in any size, any gauge, anywhere in the country.

Find a need. Fill it. With this way of working, KAISER ALUMINUM is contributing more useful product innovations—and giving more customers better service—every day.

Mrs. Gerald Mincks

Madden-Mincks Vows Heard At First Friends

The first couple to plight their troth in the sanctuary of the new First Friends Church were Miss Helen Bernice Madden, daughter of Mrs. Bernard J. Madden of 569 W. State St. and the late Mr. Madden, and Gerald Allan Mincks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emmet Mincks, of RD 1, Salem, who were married at 6 p.m. Saturday.

Twin vases of white flowers decorated the altar which was banked with palms and ferns, and lighted with cathedral candelabra, as Rev. Harold Winn officiated at the double ring ceremony. Mrs. William Snyder was soloist and traditional wedding music was played by Miss Ila Jeanne Davis.

Given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Frederick Meine, the bride wore a princess styled gown of white Chantilly lace and organza with Sabrina neckline and long sleeves. The full flared skirt of silk organza over net and taffeta was adorned with lace appliques and swept to a chapel length train. Her bouffant finger-tip length veil of tulle was held by a double Danish crown of pearls and she carried an arrangement of white carnations and stephanotis on a white satin and lace covered Bible.

Mrs. Fred Weingart was matron of honor in a red velvet street length dress with scoop neckline, complemented with matching crown with white veil. Her flowers were white and red carnations in colonial arrangement.

Miss Agnes Madden, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and wore a gown identical to that of the matron of honor.

Mr. Mincks chose Fred Weingart to be his best man and his brother, Roger, to usher, together with Fred Stanley of North Benton.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruise —

Ladies: When you are measuring shortening for a cake or anything else heat your aluminum measurer (whether it be a measuring cup or that old ice cream dipper) hold it under your hot water faucet for a few minutes until it gets real hot, then — measure your shortening.

You won't have any sticky "goo" in that measuring cup! The heat (which the aluminum absorbs) will melt the shortening slightly when it touches the cup and it falls into whatever you are mixing. This also works when dipping or measuring molasses.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I remove stains and mildew spots from my rubber toilet tray with diluted bleach, then soak it in hot water and then rinse it off well.

While it is still soaking in the hot water I put an all-purpose dye in the water and dunk the still-hot tray in the colored water. Any color may be used.

There must be enough colored water to completely cover it. In about a minute you have a nicely tinted tray to match your bathroom decor!

MRS. A. BOROBICHA.

Now, aren't you clever?
HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I keep some vinegar in a bottle labeled "For Cleaning Only."

Vinegar is wonderful for taking off the lime ring in enamel pans. Be sure the vinegar covers the ring. Let stand until it softens the ring. It washes clean, and the pan is like new.

CLARE MEADE.

DEAR HELOISE: For those who make their own boxed pizza and have ever dropped a full can of cheese in one big mess on your masterpiece... then this suggestion can help you.

Just take a scrap of your famous nylon net material and place across the opened can of cheese, fastening it securely with a rubber band. Then sprinkle your pizza. The net controls an even "mist" of cheese. The scrap of net may be used over and over again.

HEATHER McCONNELL.

DEAR HELOISE: For the readers who live in areas where black iron furniture or the legs of other parts of black metal furniture rust... try using black shoe polish to touch up the rough spots or places where the finish comes off. It works.

CLAIRE RUNGE.

LADIES: This will not remove the rust. I suggest you take a piece of tin foil from any package, or the kind that comes in a roll, and wad it up in a ball. Briskly rub the rusted places first, then use this method. We found this works.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I have the answer for those who remove ice cream from cartons and place it in their refrigerator trays, but soon find that crystals form on top of the ice cream... Tear off a piece of waxed paper and wrap around the tray before putting it in the ice compartment of the refrigerator. There will never be any crystals on top of the ice cream.

Wax paper is inexpensive and once a portion of the ice cream is removed, the wax paper can be folded over again, again and again.

SUE WALTERS.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Our family likes baked apples. Since my mother-in-law told me to bake them in my muffin tin, I believe that in-laws are worth their weight in gold. Apples have much nourishment.

My muffin tin is a twelve-cup size. Since I bake only six apples at a time, I fill the other cups with water. The steam makes better apples!

SANDRA LARNS.

DEAR HELOISE: It finally dawned on me that I could brush our bed springs with liquid floor wax and eliminate the squeaks. Paste wax will do the same thing and probably allows for a much better job but I didn't have any.

I suggest that women dig their rag in any paste-type wax and run this around all the metal parts where metal scratches against metal, or metal against wood.

VERA N.

DEAR HELOISE: When I buy a pound of bacon. I heat my oven at 350 degrees and while the oven is pre-heating I spread the bacon on a wire cake rack — just barely overlapping each strip of bacon.

I bake this until most of the grease has baked out. Then I set the wire rack with the bacon on a large platter or pan until cool.

When cool, I divide the bacon and lay it on sheets of wax paper and put it back in the refrigerator. It will keep a week or so (if your refrigerator is properly regulated) and never get "tacky" when reheated. Instead of fatty pieces of bacon, which usually pucker, most of the grease will be gone. This is especially good for those who are on diets.

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

A British psychologist claims that happy people swear more than unhappy ones.

The over-all cost of living has increased by 25.3 per cent in the last decade — but medical care costs are up more than 50 per cent.

Housewives tend to get mad if told their life is getting easier, but it is estimated that by using an automatic washer and dryer the average woman saves each week the energy it would take to climb a ladder 6½ miles high.

Over 90,000 tons of paper are used in turning out some five billion greeting cards each year. About half are sent at Christmas, and more than two million go astray because they have the wrong address.

Each soldier in the American Revolution, by decree of the Continental Congress, was supposed to receive a ration of a quart of beer a day—but he often didn't get it. The Doctor Says

By Dr. WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT

Health Questions, Answers

—My doctor had me get an electrocardiogram, and then he said I had neurocirculatory asthenia. Is this the same as soldier's heart?

What is the cause and what is the treatment?

A — Neurocirculatory asthenia goes under many names including soldier's heart, effort syndrome, vasomotor instability, nervous heart and cardiac neurosis.

The cause is a chronic state of anxiety that frequently stems from being brought up as a child in an atmosphere of apprehension. It usually starts in adolescence and is chronic. The victim complains of tiring and shortness of breath after mild exertion. Palpitation (a acute awareness of the normal beating of the heart) is usually present.

Physical examination may reveal a functional murmur. This is a heart murmur that is not due to a structural change in the heart resulting from an organic disease. The electrocardiogram may show a slight deviation from the normal pattern, but this is without significance. The X-ray of the heart shows no abnormalities. Because of the palpitation, the victim worries a great deal about the possibility of heart disease.

Those who accept the reassurances of their physician that the condition is not serious and in no way constitutes a threat to life, make a satisfactory adjustment and are able to carry on a normal occupational and social life.

—I am taking Aristocort for asthma. Can I stop taking it without any harmful effects?

A — Triamcinalone (aristocort) is one of the adrenal cortical hormones. It is safer than many of the other drugs of this class but prolonged use will cause rounding of the face, growth of hair on the face and obesity. Softening of the bones and peptic ulcer may also occur if too large a dose is used, just as with other steroid hormones. If you contemplate stopping this drug you must taper off gradually.

Q — I recently read an article that said aspirin causes internal bleeding and may lead to ulcers and anemia. Since aspirin has been a mainstay in our medicine cabinet for years this worries me. What is your opinion?

A — It has long been known that aspirin irritates the stomach lining. For this reason it should be avoided by anyone who has a peptic ulcer. Along with this irritation it may cause bleeding, especially if the tablets are slow to disintegrate. Manufacturers now make their tablets so easy to disintegrate that they fall apart on the back of the tongue. Many people find that this irritates the throat so you can't win. When aspirin causes a loss of blood from the stomach repeatedly over several months, anemia may result.

A recent study indicates that buffered aspirin, although no more effective as a pain killer, will not, when taken in the usual doses, cause bleeding in the stomach.

approval would provide Ohio with the money for higher education facilities than any other state in the next 2½ years.

Opponents contend that interest charges on the bonds would be excessive and that no provision is included for higher teacher salaries and public school subsidies.

Latest estimate by State Treasurer John Herbert showed that interest costs for the big bond issue would approximate $115 million.

Polls open in the state's approximately 14,000 voting places at 6:30 a.m. They close at 6:30 p.m.

State liquor stores and bars will remain closed by law until an hour after the voting deadline.

Youngstown Voting Expected to Be Light

YOUNGSTOWN — More than 100,000 Mahoning County voters are expected to go to the polls in municipal township and school district elections Tuesday.

A close mayoral race between the incumbent, Harry Savasten, and Council President Anthony B. Flak highlights the campaigns here.

Philip Rogers, elections board clerk, believes about 60,000 Youngstown residents will vote, fewer than have balloted in recent municipal elections.

TO MEET IN LEETONIA

LEETONIA — A program on basketball analysis and highlights will be given when the Youngstown Area Women's Health and Physical Education Association meets at 8 tonight at Leetonia High School.

Mishaps

Charles Shaffer, 46, of RD 1, Wellsville, collided Sunday at 1:24 a.m. on Township Rd. 911, about a mile north of Route 45.

Cain was cited for driving left of center after he came over a hillcrest on the township road and sideswiped Shaffers car.

Two Columbiana area motorists were cited after a three-car mishap Saturday at 11:57 a.m. on Township Rd. 796, about a mile south of Route 164, but no one was hurt. Arrested were Mrs. Thelma Vollnogle, 28, of RD 2, Columbiana, charged with failing to stop within the assured clear distance, and Rolland Reash, 26, of 116 S. Main St., Columbiana, charged with parking on the highway.

Reash was stopped on the road with another vehicle driven by Norman Esterly Jr., 33, of RD 2, Columbiana, stopped behind him. Esterly pulled into a private drive and Mrs. Vollnogle, coming over a hillcrest, struck Reash's auto, the patrol said. Damage resulted to the two cars and a mailbox owned by William Reash of RD 2, Columbiana.

Two Salem area youths were involved in a minor collision Sunday at 8 p.m. on County Rd. 400, about nine miles south of Salem. The Patrol said Ronald Koar, 20, of RD 2, started to pass another northbound car driven by Bruce Moffett, 17, also of RD 2, and struck the latter's left rear fender. Koar was cited for reckless operation.

A sneeze was the apparent undoing of Leonard Weston, 54, of Wyoming Ave., East Liverpool, who, in the throes of the involuntary action, went off the right side of Route 267, three miles south of Route 30 Sunday morning at 5:50. His auto plowed into a parked pickup owned by Charles Harris of East Liverpool, causing moderate damage to both.

In a Saturday mishap at 2 p.m. Donald Menehr, 21, of near Glenmoor apparently couldn't see where he was going, and collided with an auto driven by Dorothy Tuser, 43, of West Point on County Rd. 424, a half mile west of Route 30. The patrol said Menehr tried to turn left into a private drive as Mrs. Tuser was in the act of passing. The youth was cited for failure to have a rear view mirror.

Eight hours after the incident Saturday morning at 2, Mrs. Martha Braden, 38, of Wellsville, told state police her car filled with smoke and fumes and burst into flames on Route 172, about three miles northwest of Route 30.

Winter

Private advice from Winchester, Va., say squirrels there are acting differently. They are really scrambling for acorns. But political considerations may enter into this case.

Winchester is the domain of Sen. Harry F. Byrd, an economy who expects all hands—human and animal—to be diligent and frugal.

From all over come reports that not many hairy caterpillars, or woolly worms, have been observed crossing highways. Last autumn a lot of them did so, in disregard of stoplights, and of course this foretold deep snow and severe cold.

Now we turn to a study of almanacs.

To be sure, the Farmers Almanac says that generally the winter will be warmer—37 degrees average as compared to 34 last year. But it adds that there will be 57 inches of snow. That's 2.72 inches more than last year.

The Hagerstown (Md.) Town and Country Almanack predicts rain or snow on 21 days during the first three months of 1964. Seventeen other days in the same period are marked fair and cold.

The nearest thing to a long range forecast that can be wrung out of the Weather Bureau is this from J. Murray Mitchell Jr., widely known meteorologist:

"I feel that people would be well-advised to prepare as if cold weather lay ahead."

Upon examination, this statement is seen to be hedged. But Dr. Mitchell feels that, in the present state of science, it would be premature to say more.

REPORT FOR KIWANIS

Vince Moore, president of the Salem Kiwanis Club, Ralph Landwert and Albert Hanna will report on the Ohio District convention at the clubs meeting Thursday noon at the Memorial Building.

Kiwanis Club's "white elephant" sale is Nov. 15 and 16 at the former Century Market.

Beloit Residents Will Vote Upon 2 Village Issues

BELOIT — William Eshelman will be unopposed when he seeks the office of mayor in Tuesday's general election.

Vying for one council seat will be incumbent Dean Ritchie and Raymond Gibbons.

Two issues which will be decided upon by the 304 registered voters will be the renewal of a 1.5-mill levy for street lights and an $80,000 sewage bond issue.

Voting will be conducted at the Village Hall.

Two seats will be filled on the West Branch Board of Education. Candidates for the positions are Glenn Moffett and incumbent John Denny.

Two school levies to be decided will be the 10.1-mill renewal levy to replace the present 11-mill levy for current expenses and a two-mill levy to meet the added operating expenses of the new high school.

Smith Township officials to be elected are a clerk and one trustee. Vying for clerk are incumbent Harry C. Johnston and Cletus Nebeth. Running for trustee are Frank H. Buehler, Harold F. Fryfogel and William M. Kinsley.

thews Jr. in the treasurer's race. The job is now held by James Criswell, Republican, who declined to seek re-election.

Democrats James G. Aldom, S. Eldon Yates and Virgil E. Klepper are candidates for the three council-at-large positions, opposing John E. Rance, Joyce S. Wilson and Ralph K. Zimmerman.

Albert Lesch, Democratic incumbent, is opposed by Robert G. Hanna for the First Ward Council post; Harold J. Asty, Democrat incumbent seeking his 10th term faces Thomas B. Smith for the Third Ward Council seat; and Michael Schuller and Robert C. Straub, a Democrat, are opponents for the Fourth Ward Council position.

Republican Charles Gibb is unopposed for the Second Ward Seat and Solicitor Thomas Coe, a Republican, also has no opposition.

Six persons, including two incumbents, seek three positions on the Salem School Board. Atty. Bryce W. Kendall and Gail C. Herron are the incumbents while others on the ballot include John Herman Jr., David A. Brinken, Mrs. Dorothy McKibbin and Elliott Hansell.

Ernest Rufer, Anthony Sheen and Glenn A. Whinnery are vying for one seat on the Perry Township Board of Trustees. Incumbent Joseph G. Reeses did not file for re-election. Richard L. Hutcheson, township clerk, is not opposed.

Driver Is Cited In Crash Hurting One

John Begalla, 32, of RD 2, Salem, was cited for failure to stop in the assured clear distance after he was involved in a three-car mishap at 3:26 p.m. Saturday.

According to police, Begalla was traveling south on N. Ellsworth Ave. and was unable to stop at a traffic light at the intersection of W. 10th St. Police said he hit the rear of an auto driven by Robert G. Sammartino, 40, of 960 Franklin Ave., shoving it into the rear of a car operated by Vernon E. Rich, 69, of 778½ E. 3rd St. Sammartino was treated and released at Salem Central Clinic for injuries to the left knee and a bump on the head.

Mrs. Nhu wired Secretary of State Dean Rusk Sunday to help her obtain a safe-conduct to return to South Viet Nam to arrange for a funeral service, the source said.

In Washington, the U.S. government repudiated a statement by an unnamed official that Diem and Nhu had reaped the results of their misdeeds. The State Department told the new revolutionary committee the deaths of Diem and Nhu while in its custody could not be condoned.

Mrs. Nhu said the deaths placed "an indelible stigma" on the United States. But State Department officials said the United States could accept none of the blame.

There has been no request yet for U.S. recognition of the new regime, State Department officials said. But it was considered certain the new government would receive U.S. recognition.

The wedding, at the flower-decked Palace of Marriages in downtown Moscow, was televised.

The reception given by the Kremlin started with a noon wedding breakfast and continued with champagne toasts long into the evening. The newlyweds left on a honeymoon before the last glasses were drained.

Defense Minister Rodio Malinovsky and Chief Air Marshal Konstantin Vershinin rushed up to the newlyweds as they entered the ballroom and presented them a girl doll with a pacifier in its mouth. They said it was a "symbolic present."

The beaming Khrushchev said: "I didn't bring any baby bugles or pacifiers. If you have a baby, the gifts won't fail to come."

He also boasted: "Our people is covering itself with glory. We shall give the capitalist world no peace, since it has to go."

Mrs. Khrushchev accompanied the couple to the party. The premier escorted the mothers of the bride and bridegroom to the head table.

Fire Destroys Barn On Sowards Farm

Fire of unknown origin destroyed a 40 by 50-foot barn on the farm of Lew Sowards, Roller Coaster Road, about four miles southeast of Lisbon, Saturday at 2:10 p.m.

Lisbon firemen said they were unable to save the barn or the 30 tons of hay and several tons of straw inside. Sixteen head of beef cattle which occupied the lower part of the block and wood structure were in pasture at the time.

Firemen said the barn was constructed after another barn on the site burned about 11 years ago. Mrs. Sowards said the loss was partially covered by insurance.

Clerk Edward R. Bretz is un-opposed. Candidates for two seats on Village Council are Dan Percy, Howard Webber and Robert George, Robert Esterly and Eugene Walton are candidates for the Board of Public Affairs.

Running for three seats on the Fairfield-Waterford Board of Education are Mrs. Elinor J. Bretz, Alvin Carroll, Mrs. Beulah Converse, Harold Gray and Glen Seachrist.

Residents also will vote on school and village tax levies. Polling places are the fire de-partment building and the Fish and Game Clubhouse.

United Board to Meet This Evening

The United Local Board of Education will meet in regular session tonight at the school, executive head Chester Brauti-gam reports.

Among discussions will be the dwindling water supply aggra-vated by the unprecedented Oc-tober dryness. The school is fed by two wells, although one east of the football field due to in-sufficient depth has contributed very little, placing the burden on the well near the football field.

Brautigam said the school has experienced low pressure each Friday this fall as the school use through the week sapped the water supply in the well near the cafeteria. This well was cleaned out and dug 50 feet deeper last Christmas vacation. The possibility of similarly deepening the second, ineffec-tive well will be discussed by the board.

Selection of members to at-tend the annual convention of the Ohio School Boards Asso-ciation Nov. 12-14 at Columbus is also expected.

OHIO FIVE-DAY FORECAST
NORTHERN OHIO — Temper-atures will average 3 to 6 de-grees above normal. Normal high 51-53, normal low 33-38. Warmer Tuesday and Wednes-day, cooling toward end of week. Precipitation expected to aver-age one-quarter inch as showers tonight and Tuesday and again latter part of week.

SOUTHERN AND CENTRAL OHIO—Temperatures will aver-age 4 to 8 degrees above nor-mal. Normal high 54-60, normal low 36-39. Only minor day-to-day changes. Precipitation will aver-age about one-half inch in show-ers early in period and again in latter part of week.

Hanoverton Posts Sought by 9 Persons

HANOVERTON — Three men are candidates for mayor in Tuesday's general election. They are George H. Wilson, incum-bent, Howard Yeager and Clyde L. Knestrick.

Two seats on council are sought by Mervin McKarns, Wal-ter Blythe, Gladys Boyce and Mrs. Gertrude Snyder. Running unopposed will be James J. Wil-son for clerk and Leland E. Fal-son for treasurer.

Voters will also elect two of the following five persons to serve on the United District Board of Education: Roland Dorr, Henry Loudon, John Bor-ter, Mrs. Shirley Whitacre and Fred Bates.

School issues to be decided are two operating levies. One is a six-mill levy, of which 5.10 mills is renewal and .90 is new, and a new three-mill levy. Hanoverton voters will also choose a township clerk and trustees.

United Rips Springfield Local 28-12

By CAROL CROFT
United High School struck quickly three times in the second quarter and added one more TD in the third period to defeat the Springfield High School Tigers 28-12 on a cold, windswept Hanoverton field Saturday.

Except for the final period, when the Golden Eagles controlled the football almost exclusively, it was pretty much a seesaw battle as far as possession of the ball was concerned.

Highlighting the action for Coach Al Carrino's crew was a fine run in the second quarter by senior quarterback Bill McGranahan who took a Springfield kickoff on his own 25 yard marker and fought his way through a host of would-be tacklers to clear field, winding up in the Tigers' end zone for United's first score.

McGranahan was also responsible for another TD on an eight-yard dash in the third period.

Another long run for the hosts was made in the same period by junior halfback Gene Metzgar who sprinted 60 yards for the Eagles' second tally.

Sharing scoring honors was end Homer Sturgeon who recovered the football in the end zone after Springfield's Gary Myers had dropped back to punt in the second period. Myers was unable to control a high pass from center and Sturgeon pounced on the pigskin for the tally.

Both teams, bothered a little, perhaps, by the biting cold and intermittent snow flurries after eight weeks of balmy football weather, were plagued by fumbles throughout the contest.

After a scoreless first quarter, which saw the Eagles' strong defense hold the Tigers on the nine-yard line after a march of 34 yards, the Mahoning County aggregation chalked up the first score early in the second frame.

Senior halfback Ken Bentfield carried the ball in from three inches out after the United defense held the visitors within the five for two plays. A run attempt for extra points failed.

McGranahan made his sparkling run on the ensuing kickoff and passed to Votaw for the conversion, making the score, 8-6.

On the second Springfield play following the kickoff, Votaw intercepted a Bob Mason pass and ran 60 yards for the second score. A run for extra points failed.

The Tigers again took the kickoff and were forced to punt on their own 20 with fourth down and six to go when the high pass was recovered by Sturgeon for the score. A successful McGranahan - to - Votaw conversion pass made the halftime score, 22-6.

McGranahan scored the final touchdown for the Eagles in the third period on his eight - yard run following a 30-yard drive. The pass try for extra points was not successful.

In the last quarter, United was forced to turn the ball over to the visitors on downs on the Springfield 23. Jerry Berton took the football on the first play from scrimmage and raced 77 yards to pay dirt. A conversion run attempt failed.

The Tigers then tried an on-side kick but United's Martin Briceland retained possession on the visitors' 49. The Eagles then marched to the four before having to give up the ball on downs.

Springfield managed one play, which was a fumble recovered by the hosts, before the final gun sounded.

United, now 6-3 for the season, will be working all week in an attempt to upset the tough Lisbon Blue Devils, whose only loss this season was at the hands of Louisville. The contest will be played Friday night at Lisbon.

Cleveland Trims Eagles 23-17, Brown Gains 223 Yards

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer
PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Perhaps there isn't any such thing as an indispensable player. But it would be difficult to picture the Cleveland Browns without Jim Brown.

The 228-pound Brown simply was devastating Sunday as he ripped through the Philadelphia Eagles' line for 223 yards on 28 carries. He scored only once, a 62-yard romp on the fourth play of the game, but his bull-like rushes set up the other scoring in a 23-17 Cleveland victory.

Eagles' Coach Nick Skorich said it best in the losers' dressing room during the post-mortem. "Our main problem was that we had trouble stopping Jim Brown," he commented, in what had to be the understatement of the year.

RRyan Throws Only 9 Times

With Brown having a big day the Browns actually disdained the forward pass. Quarterback Frank Ryan threw only nine, completed four for 70 yards. On one play, with second and 20 after losing 10 on a pass attempt, Ryan handed the ball to Brown who lumbered for 15 yards. Most teams would have deemed that a passing situation.

Brown, who upped his league leading ground gaining figures to 1,194 yards on 165 carries, does his best to disclaim the one-man team designation. Sitting in front of his locker after the game, he asserted:

"I never think as an individual. Nobody out there does anything alone. The harder the boys on the club work, then naturally the better I go. If I don't work with the men on the team then I'm lost."

Brown's running gives the Browns that all-important all control. He keeps the defense "honest" in that it can't peel off too quickly on pass protection until it is sure Big Jim hasn't got the all.

Browns Have to Hang On

The Browns were anything but impressive. They had to hang on through a wild final period, but succeeded in remaining a game ahead of the New York Giants in the Eastern division.

Pittsburgh, which lost to Green Bay, fell practically out of title contention. The Browns play the Steelers in Pittsburgh next Sunday.

The victory was the Browns' seventh, equaling their entire output last year. There are six games left.

Louis Groza was a crucial man in the Cleveland triumph, kicking three field goals.

The Eagles scored in the first quarter on a 22-yard field goal by Mike Clark. Late in the quarter, Philadelphia completed a long drive, with Clarence Peaks going the final two yards, and went ahead, 10-7.

Groza kicked field goals of 9, 22 and 34 yards in the second margin at halftime.

Fichtner Intercepts Pass

A pass interception by Ross Fichtner got the Browns moving in the third period. He picked off a King Hill pass and returned 39 yards to Cleveland's 48. From the Philadelphia 21, Ryan floated a pass to Ernie Green for the touchdown.

The Eagles marched 62 yards to the Cleveland 18 to set the stage for the fourth quarter thrills. Philadelphia's Tim Brown drove to the 7 but fumbled and Fichtner recovered.

Cleveland was forced to punt. Hill began to connect on his passes and Ron Goodwin caught one for 14 yards and a score.

There were only 64 seconds remaining then. The Eagles were unsuccessful with two onside kicks, both going out of bounds. The third clicked and Philadelphia's Gary Henson recovered on the Browns' 48.

Hill passed to Pete Retzlaff for 12 yards, but his next toss was intercepted by Larry Benz.

With 3:03 left in the fourth quarter Randy McPhee plunged over from two yards out to give Canfield a 6-6 tie with Youngstown Chaney at the Cardinals' stadium Saturday.

Chaney dominated play during most of the first half and threatened to score a couple of times, but Canfield halted the Cowboys drives.

Close to 3,000 fans watched as Jack Petterson's juggernaut remained unbeaten. The Cardinals are 6-0-2 for the campaign. Chaney is 4-3-1.

Snow squalls fell throughout the afternoon and the turf was wet and slippery, making playing conditions miserable.

YOUNGSTOWN CHANEY tallied its TD in the third period, when end Larry Bresko blocked a Canfield punt, then dashed 43 yards for the six points.

The visitors picked up seven of their nine first downs during the first half, and allowed Canfield only 13 offensive chances with the football.

Late in the third period, Bill Rowse back to punt got a snap from center, but before he could get the kick away, six Cowboys broke through, with Bresko blocking the boot.

The loose pigskin rolled into the middle of the field at about the Cardinals 43, where Bresko scooped up the football and raced the distance to the end zone, giving Chaney a 6-0 margin.

A try for the extra points on a passing play failed.

CANFIELD GOT ITS big break with 7:04 remaining in the fourth frame, when an attempted snap from center, on a Chaney punting situation, never got off the ground. The football stuck in the mud, and the Cardinals recovered at the Chaney 29.

Mike Crossen, Ray Alcott and Mike Graiano shared the ball carrying duties to the Cowboys' two, then Randy McPhee plunged the final yards to tie the score 6-6.

With only 3:03 left, Canfield tried to get the extra points on a power play with McPhee totting the pigskin, but the attempt failed.

The visitors had several drives halted inside the Canfield 25 throughout the tilt.

CANFIELD HAS GIVEN up only four touchdowns during the campaign, while blanking six other opponents.

Chaney, in controlling play the first half, connected on several passes. The Cowboys completed eight of 13 aeriels, picking up 103 yards during the contest.

In the second session, Canfield solved the Cowboys' passing game, with Don Stack's "red dogging tactics" and crushing tackling by Tom James.

Canfield ends its season at Leetonia (2-7) Friday night.

Packers Crush Pitt 33-14, Taylor Scores TD; Chicago Tight Defense Downs Baltimore 17-7

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer
"I can cut and swing now," said Green Bay's Jim Taylor.

And with Taylor cutting through the line, the Packers are cutting through the opposition and heading for a possible shot at an unprecedented third consecutive National Football League championship.

Taylor, regaining his strength after a hepatitis siege and injuries to his knee, groin and ankles, had his best day of the season Sunday, barreling for 141 yards in 30 carries and scoring one touchdown as the Packers crushed Pittsburgh 33-14 for their seventh straight victory.

Baltimore Tied for Lead
The victory kept the Packers, whose only loss was an opening game defeat by Chicago, tied with the Bears for the Western Division lead, both at 7-1. The Bears again made the most of a tight defense and all control and downed Baltimore 17-7.

Cleveland, which suffered its first loss last week, bounced back with a 23-17 victory over Philadelphia built on Jim Brown's 23-yard rushing output and three field goals by veteran Lou Groza. The Browns are one game ahead of New York.

The Giants rode Y.A. Tittle's four touchdown passes to a 38-21 walloping of St. Louis. Detroit's Earl Morrall passed for four scores in a 45-7 walloping of San Francisco. Don Meredith connected for four payoff pitches as Dallas drubbed Washington 35-20 and Minnesota defeated Los Angeles 21-13 on two second half touchdown strikes by Fran Tarkenton.

The Steelers bolted into a 7-0 lead against the Packers with only 11 seconds gone as Gary Ballman returned the opening kickoff 93 yards and Dick Hoak cracked two yards for a touchdown. But it was all Green Bay after that. Three of Jerry Kramer's four field goals gave the Packers a 9-7 halftime lead before Taylor plunged one yard for a third period touchdown that put it out of reach.

The Bears scored their first touchdown when Billy Wade plunged one yard after connecting with Joe Marconi on a 63-yard pass play. Joe Fortunato's interception of a Johnny Unitas pass led to Chicago's clincher, a 16-yard flip from Wade to Rick Casares. Lenny Moore scored for the Colts on a 25-yard run.

Browns Score on 62-Yard Run

Brown started the Browns rolling with a 62-yard touchdown run in the first quarter, then spent the rest of the game setting up Groza's field goals. Groza connected from 9, 22 and 34 yards out. Brown brought his league-leading rushing total to 1,194—333 yards short of his 1958 record—and surpassed the 1,000-yard mark for the fifth time in his seven-year career.

Tittle struck for more touchdown passes against the Cardinals than the St. Louis defense had allowed in seven previous games. Three came in the second period as he connected with Frank Gifford on a 41-yarder and hit Aaron Thomas with 33 and one yarders. A 40-yard TD strike to Del Shofner rounded out his performance.

Morrall Hits on 24 Passes

Morrall gained the most yardage in his career against the 49ers, completing 24 of 33 passes for 330 yards. Three of his TD passes went to Terry Barr on plays covering 10, 21 and 6 yards. The other was a 10-yarder to Tom Watkins, who also scored on a five-yard run.

Interceptions by Mike Gaechter, who lumbered 86 yards with one, and Cornell Green led to two of the Cowboys touchdowns. Meredith, meanwhile, sliced the Redskins defense for 13 and 12 yard TD passes to Franke Clarke and a pair of one-yarders to Lee Folkins.

The Rams built a 10-7 lead on Carver Shannon's 99-yard kickoff return and a 47-yard field

Blue Devils End Campaign With 6-3 Record

Western Reserve Blanks Mohawk 14-0; Owen Scores Both TD's

Western Reserve took quick advantage of two breaks in the last half to defeat Mohawk, 14-0, at Sebring, Saturday evening.

Dick Owen, senior, playing his last game for Reserve, scored both touchdowns.

The first half was a scoreless battle played mostly at mid-field. The Mohawks penetrated to the Reserve 14-yard line in the closing moments, but were unable to score.

The first big break came midway in the third period, when a high pass from center went over the Mohawk punter's head on last down. Mohawk recovered, but Reserve took over on downs on the losers' 21-yard line.

On the first play following the exchange, Owen broke into the clear and raced across the goal line for the first score of the game. Sahli's pass to DeAngel for the extra points was incomplete.

The second break came in the fourth period. Reserve had marched on its own 21-yard line to the Mohawk 21, before giving up the ball. On third down, Mohawk passed, with Owen intercepting. He scampered 21 yards down the sideline for the second TD of the game. Sternagle ran for the extra points. Mohawk returned the kickoff to mid-field, but a third-down pass was intercepted by Sternagle. Reserve took over and ran out the clock, with the Reserve second team getting off two plays in the final minute.

RESERVE HAD 11 first downs to 7 for Mohawk. Reserve completed 1 pass out of 4, with no interceptions. Mohawk made good on 2 out of 8 attempts, but had two interceptions. Reserve gained 207 yards rushing, and 9 yards passing, for a total of 216. Mohawk had 86 yards rushing, and 30 passing, for a total of 116.

Owen carried the ball 31 times for 184 yards, scored the winning touchdowns, and played a fine defensive game.

Winning Coach Latessa said the win was "a tremendous team effort, both on offense and defense". The win gave Reserve a 6-3 record, and was its first winning season in five years of play. Coach Latessa was assisted during the season by backfield coach Paul Binda and line coach Al DeCola.

Davis Scores 2 TD's For Bobcats

Crestview Edges Greenford 18-14 In Season's Final

Crestview came from behind late in the fourth period to nip Greenford 18-14 in an Inter-County League clash to end the grid season for both schools at the Bobcats' field Saturday.

Coach Glenn Miller's aggression made great strides during the campaign and even though the Bobcats finished with a 0-9 mark, most of the players on the unit will return next season with a wealth of experience.

U.S. Tennis Unit Earns Shot At Cup

BOMBAY, India (AP) — "I know these boys can beat the Aussies."

This was the confident prediction of non-playing captain Bob Kelleher of Los Angeles today after the U.S. Davis Cup team had clinched a victory over India and a trip into the challenge round against Australia.

"If we're playing as well as we can play, we will bring home the cup," the West Coast attorney added. "It's just a matter of putting the maximum pressure in the right place at the right time."

The U.S. team sewed up the Inter-zone final against India Sunday when Chuck McKinley and Dennis Ralston, a pair of collegians, beat Premjit Lall and Jaidip Mukerjee in doubles 6-8, 6-3, 12-10, 6-4.

McKinley previously had beaten Lall and Ralston had won over India's No. 1 ace, Ramanathan Krishnan, in the opening singles Saturday.

With a 3-0 lead in the best-of-five match series, the final two singles today became mere formality. Ralston played Lall and McKinley met Krishnan.

The Americans took off immediately afterward for Australia where they will meet the cup-holding Australians in the Challenge Round at Adelaide Dec. 26-28. They'll probably play in a couple of preliminary tournaments.

The United States has won the cup only twice since 1950, both times in major upsets, in 1954 and 1958. They have been shut out of the challenge round the last three years.

Geiberger's 278 Garners Golf Event

B DICK BARNES
Associated Press Sports Writer
SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — "Every time you hear a rumor on a golf course, forget it," advises Al Geiberger.

While his own game slumped during the final round of the $25,000 Almaden Open, rumors flew around Al's ears how his four-stroke lead had disintegrated. He double-bogied the 14th hole and bowed the 17th.

"I thought I'd blown the whole thing," Geiberger said.

But coming from the final fairway the former University of Southern California star got the right word. He needed a birdie to win.

"I sure don't know how I got it," Geiberger recalled. But he planted a No. 4 iron shot four feet from the pin. After long deliberation he holed the birdie putt and beat amateur Dick Lotz and veteran Dutch Harrison by a stroke and won $3,500.

Geiberger managed only a 37-37-74 on his final round over the 7,045-yard, par 36-36-72 Almaden Golf and Country Club course.

Lotz and Harrison, meanwhile, fired 69s after starting the day six strokes off the pace.

Jay Hebert, four back when the round began, challenged Geiberger early in the day but wound up at 72 and 279.

Geiberger had carded 69-67-67 the first three days.

North Lima Loses 22-12 To Rockets

One of the most improved teams in Inter-County League competition Lowellville rolled to a 22-12 victory over North Lima in the final clash of the campaign for both schools.

The Rockets, under the direction of Coach John Santillo, had a streak of 34-0-3 broken the third game of the season, when Crestview upset Lowellville 8-6.

Mineral Ridge, the loop champion, nosed out a 14-12 victory to hand Lowellville its second straight loss.

Then the picture changed as the Rockets found the right offensive and defensive combinations and swept their last five games to end with a 6-2 mark.

Lowellville tallied a touchdown in each of the first three periods against the Zippers.

Jim Rogers put the Rockets ahead 6-0, when he scampered 30 yards for a TD in the initial period. Bill Skerratt scored from six yards out, and Jerry Benson dashed 50 yards for six points in the third stanza.

John Sahli made both of North Lima's TD's in the final period. He sliced off tackle for his first six points and tallied on a one yard plunge midway through the quarter.

North Lima finished the season with a 1-9 record.

A word from THERON at the Country Store

A lady called me tonight to find out if I would be a donor to the blood bank when they come to the Grace Church in Columbiana Friday, Nov. 8th.

When I am around these parts I always give blood, it seems to make me feel better when I do, its probably all in my mind but I guess that is where a lot of our hurts and joys are.

They are looking for donors so if you could make it they sure would be glad to have you.

Center Union Party Wins In Greece

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—Former Premier George Papandreou's Center Union party won an upset victory today in the Greek parliamentary elections, ending eight years of rule by Constantine Caramanlis' rightist National Radical Union.

It was not immediately clear, however, whether Papandreou's party had won a majority of seats in the 300-member Parliament or whether it would be forced to form a coalition government.

No change was expected in Greece's pro-Western alignment. Foreign policy played little part in the campaign in this NATO nation on the alliance's strategic eastern flank.

Papandreou, 75, leader of Greece's government - in-exile in World War II and its first postwar premier, charged Caramanlis had governed this birthplace of democracy as a police state.

More than a million persons in a population of 8.4 million turned out for a record vote.

Returns from 9,841 of the 10,162 voting districts gave this vote: Center Union, 1,844,475 (42.2 per cent); National Radical Union, 1,710,307 (39.15 per cent); United Democratic Left (the Communist front), 627,437 (14.36 per cent); progressives, 161,587 (3.69 per cent).

Because of the complex electoral law, the composition of the one-chamber house could not be figured immediately.

Two years ago, Caramanlis' party won 180 parliamentary seats on a popular vote of 51 per cent. The Center Union won only 33 per cent and 95 seats, while the Communist front got 15 per cent and 20 seats.
